The most beautiful humming birds are found in the West Indies and South America. The crest of the tiny head of the bird shines like a sparkling crown of coloured light. They are called humming birds because they make a soft, humming noise by the rapid motion of their wings – a motion so rapid that as they fly, you can hardly see that they have wings.

Questions:

32. Where are the humming birds found?
33. How does the crest of the bird shine?
34. Why are they called "Humming Birds"?
