

EVERWIN VIDHYASHRAM

22.11.2019

TRY AT HOME

UKG

English : Revise Pgs. 4, 5 and 6 (Term – 3)

English : Story The Honest Wood Cutter.

The Honest Wood Cutter.

Once there lived a poor and honest woodcutter. One day while he was cutting wood, his axe fell into the nearby river. He was sad. The River Goddess saw this and took out a golden axe and a silver axe. The woodcutter said "These are not mine". This time the River Goddess took out an iron axe. The woodcutter said happily "This axe is mine". The River Goddess was pleased and gave all the three axes as a gift to him.

Moral: Honesty is the best Policy.